

Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas. Mr. Speaker, the rescission bill was bad policy. It cuts education programs for children. The rescission bill cuts safe and drug-free schools, drastically reducing the funding to a little less than $10 million.

Yesterday I was honored to be at the White House when the President honored 98 schools who received safe and drug-free school funds for their commitment to education in fighting crime and drugs.

One of those schools recognized was Crespo Elementary, in Houston independent school district, an inner-city school district located in the 29th Congressional District.

When the doors of Crespo Elementary opened in 1992, it was an inner-city school. Everyone expected it to be low performing. In 2 years that school has been recognized as a school by the Texas Education Agency for its academic performance and its positive drug-free environment.

I applaud Crespo's teachers and parents and administrators and students for their active programs. That is what works in this country.

I stand by President Clinton's veto of the rescissions bill on behalf of the 20 million schoolchildren in Texas and the hundreds at Crespo elementary who benefit from the antiviolence and drug funding.

RUSSIAN MISSILE TECHNOLOGY SOLD TO BRAZIL

(Mr. WELDON of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WELDON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, they say that actions speak louder than words. In the case of the Clinton administration, that appears to be true.

We have heard from the Clinton administration they are concerned about arms proliferation; specifically, missile technology being sold around the world.

But what are their actions? Mr. Speaker, today's Washington Post headline screams out the record of the Clinton administration. "U.S. Waives Objections to Russian Missile Technology Sale to Brazil." We now learn the Clinton administration secretly has given the go-ahead to allow the Russians to begin to export their technology, while next week on the House floor, on the defense bill, we will hear all of these arguments about adhering to the ABM Treaty.

This is the second case where the Clinton administration has waived efforts to stop proliferation of missile technology. Earlier this year they failed to stop the sale of rocket motors to China, which will be used to enhance their cruise missiles.

This is outrageous. Last evening I wrote to the President a two-page letter asking for a full public discussion and disclosure, with the Congress, about the waiver of the sanctions against Russia and Brazil.

GIVING THANKS FOR THE RESCUE OF CAPT. SCOTT O'GRADY

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise this morning to give thanks for the safe rescue of Capt. Scott O'Grady, the F-16 pilot shot down over Bosnia while flying a NATO support mission.

Captain O'Grady's training was the very best in the world, and it kept him alive for 6 days as he managed to elude hostile Bosnian Serb troops and communicate by radio with the Marine Corp rescue unit that would ultimately bring him to safety.

Though he had suffered some burns to his neck as he ejected from his crippled aircraft, Captain O'Grady never panicked.

He endured hunger and hypothermia while judiciously using his battery-powered rescue radio to call for help.

Both Captain O'Grady and his Marine Corps rescuers from Camp Lejeune performed by the book. They did precisely what their military training had instructed them to do, and thus the prayers of all America have been answered.

Mr. Speaker, it has become fashionable lately for many of my congressional colleagues to criticize our military's readiness, to allege that training has suffered as a result of more streamlined Pentagon spending.

Well, Mr. Speaker, for those who want to justify a return to the days of monstrous defense budgets in the face of deficits and mounting domestic problems, I would like to point to the textbook competence and excellence displayed by American fighting forces in this dramatic episode.

To Captain O'Grady's family, I extend America's warmest wishes.

We share your joy in the safe return of your brave loved one.

And we share your pride in knowing that he is a part of the very best trained, the very best equipped, and the readiest fighting force the world has ever known, and supported by this administration and Democrats of Congress believing in a strong, efficient, effective defense.

URGING CONGRESS TO SHOW RESTRAINT

(Mrs. MEEK of Florida asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I stand here today to urge restraint on the part of the Congress on both sides of the aisle, both Republicans and Democrats, to understand when they begin to dismantle the only health care program for the poor that we have in this country, that they should take some pause before doing that.

I think the American public needs to know not what is going on here in Washington and the bills and the resolutions, but they need to know what is not there.

The Republicans want to cut Medicaid by $170 billion, and I listened this morning and I heard some greedy Governors, particularly Governors from Republican States, who want to have all the money dumped in one pile so they can use it as they see fit. And I guarantee you it will not all be used for the purposes for which it is intended.

They show little concern about the impact of these proposals on children, the elderly, and the severely disabled. They are concerned about management and about how they can use this money to make their coffers stronger. They like to cut dollars, but they do not like to create alternatives.

I have heard no alternatives to Medicaid since I have been here.

Mr. Speaker, I urge restraint on the part of the Congress to think about the poor and the underserved.

Mr. WISE. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, the gentleman is correct. The Democrat minority has been consulted and has no objection to this request.

Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my reservation of objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. I there objection to the request of the gentleman from Ohio?

There was no objection.
